

ROBERT VANE

Communicator, Author, Advocate, Speaker

A former broadcast journalist in the United States Army, Robert has an extensive communications background in the public, private, and non-profit sectors.

As a deputy chief of staff and communications director for Indianapolis Mayor Greg Ballard, Robert directed the public outreach and media campaigns for projects such as the $2 billion transfer of the water utility to Citizens Energy Group. He also authored two "State of the City" speeches.

Since launching his veteran business enterprise in 2010, Veteran Strategies, Inc., Robert's clients and projects includes Anthem, the Women in Tech initiative, the Greater Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, the Community Justice Campus, and Marian University. In 2018, he directed the successful $272 million referenda for Indianapolis Public Schools.

Veteran Strategies is certified by the federal government as a veteran business enterprise and is registered with the state of Indiana and city of Indianapolis.

PRAISE FOR ROBERT

Robert's counsel always proved strong, smart, and cognizant of what we needed to say and what the media needed to hear.

GREG BALLARD

Two-term Indianapolis mayor and retired Marine officer

Robert has built his successful career on his strength as a communicator and bridge-builder. He gets things done.

KEVIN FINCH

Two-time Indianapolis TV news director, documentary filmmaker and college professor I've found Robert to be level-headed, strategic, creative and straightforward.
